

NAME:

Abdel Alli

JOB:

Research Scientist, James A. Haley Veterans' Hospital, U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs

EDUCATION:

A.A., Chemistry, Valencia College
B.S., Biology, University of South Florida (USF)

M.P.H., Infectious/Communicable Diseases, USF

Ph.D. Candidate, Molecular Medicine, USF

COOLEST THING ABOUT MY JOB:

I perform exciting biomedical research using cutting-edge technologies that may lead to innovative solutions to various health problems. I work in a scientific environment that promotes creative thinking, innovation and discovery for the advancement and improvement of health in our nation.

WHY I CHOSE FEDERAL SERVICE:

To be part of an elite team of individuals who are dedicated to serving our nation. Federal service allows individuals to choose from diverse fields and areas of specializations and offers them unique opportunities and experiences.

It's not just making a living, it's making the difference.

PARTNERSHIP FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

See more profiles, search for federal jobs and internships, and find resources at

MAKINGTHEDIFFERENCE.ORG