

Excellence in Government Fellows Program

Fall Application Deadline: September 20, 2010

Homeland security. Energy independence. Health care. Globalization. Every day, our federal workforce must address a daunting set of problems facing our nation.

To deliver the solutions that the times demand, our government needs a new generation of leaders who are more than managers—they must be innovators whose creativity in problem-solving stands up to the complexity of 21st century challenges.

Preparing Federal Leaders to Drive Innovation, Inspire Employees and Deliver Results

The Excellence in Government Fellows program strengthens the leadership skills of GS-14 and GS-15 federal employees through a proven combination of innovative coursework, best practices benchmarking, challenging action-learning projects, executive coaching and government-wide networking. Our program meets the interagency training requirements for OPM-approved candidate development programs.

Coursework: Leaders Teaching Leaders

The Excellence in Government Fellows program brings world-class public-, private- and nonprofit-sector leaders together to help Fellows apply leading management principles—including government's Executive Core Qualifications—to their jobs.

Benchmarks: Observing the Best in Action

The Fellows benchmark some of the most successful organizations for a behind-the-scenes look at their strategies for delivering results. Previous benchmarks have included Accenture, Ben & Jerry's, Deloitte, Google, Microsoft, NASA, Procter & Gamble, Starbucks and Teach for America.

Results Projects: Solving Government's Problems

Leaders learn best by doing. Fellows reinforce lessons taught in the classroom by working with agency executives to tackle complex issues confronting our country. Past Fellows have developed strategies for streamlining drug approvals, strengthening collaboration during food recalls and improving recruiting for mission-critical occupations.

Coaching and Mentoring: Learning from Others' Experience

Coaching is a critical element of leadership development. Fellows receive targeted support from experts and experienced government leaders. In addition, Fellows will have access to the Partnership's extensive network of public-, private- and nonprofit-sector leaders. Fellows will either be assigned to a project by their agency or have the opportunity to select a project of interest.

Networking: Creating a Cadre of Change Agents

Too often, leaders complete development programs and return to an environment where they feel isolated from the energy and creativity experienced during the program. Our Fellows join a community of leaders, who support continued learning through networking, online forums and other ongoing professional development opportunities.
